PAST WEEK BUSY ONE AT RAWHIDE

MUCH PROGRESS IN THE WAY OF DEVELOPMENT AND STRIKES.

The week that has just passed has been another wonder of seven days in the progress of Rawhide in the way of development and strikes. In the matter of development, the mines are gaining in depth every day, and the leasers and property owners are doing their utmost to prove that the success of the camp lies in deep mining. In the way of prospecting, new strikes are made every day, most of which have a great bearing on the future of Rawhide. The strikes that go into the picture values cause great excitement and are good things for the leasers, for they mean early shipments of ore, and a consequent quick return of cash to the leaser.

Outside of the big finds on the hills there were two strikes during the week which rank with the most important developments that have been made in the camp since the name of Rawhide was first blazoned on the world of mining. These were the strikes made on the Rawhide Northern by Tex Rickard, and another on the Rawhide Syndicate Mines Company's property in Regent.
The Regent strike has a bearing on the fortunes of the camp for the reason that it demonstrates the fact that we have a wider area of ore than was at first predicted. On the Czar lease of the Rawhide Syndicate, the strike amounts to eight feet of shipping ore, and that it will go down there is no doubt, for the ledge which was uncovered is a bold and well defined one, and can be, and has been traced for at least 2000 feet.
The Kearns No. 1 lease evidently cannot keep out of the limelight, for it was to the fore this week with the third ledge that has been encountered in the new shaft. Three feet of ore has been opened up, which pans like a house afire, and the estimate of the value has been fixed at $600 to $700 a ton.
The Reynolds-Tanner lease on the Poor Boy has been another wonder of the week. They first struck the pay dirt at a depth of 24 feet, and the shaft is now down more than 50 feet, and is getting richer, rather than petering out. This is high grade, some of it going high in the picture values, all of it showing the yellow metal. The rock glistens with the gold like the dew on the grass on a spring morning.

The story of the St. Ives lease has been told. They have put up a fence eight feet in height to guard the jewel casket that was opened up the week before, and shot out on Sunday last when the whole camp nearly was up on Balloon Hill high grading from the St. Ives. They are developing this new ledge, while continuing sinking the shaft, and a hoist and gal-lows frame are on their way.

The development is going on in every direction. The hills in Regent and the Royal Tiger are alive with men, and Murray, Balloon, Gruff, Bluff, IXL, and the other hills are hives of industry. The Poor Boy, Last Chance, Black Buttes, and all the way out to the Royal Tiger and Regent, present animated scenes of development work, while on the Hooligan Hill and down in the flat there is another army of miners with pick and shovel and powder and shot.

A mile below Jumper town they have struck placer diggings, and this has created an excitement all its own. This week they struck a pay streak on the flats which gave returns of $36 a cubic yard. This has the Klondike exceeded in its biggest strikes.

This will give an idea of the amount of development that is being done, and the progress that is being made in Rawhide. The report of Superintendent J. G. Flynn of the Rawhide Balloon Hill, Rawhide Queen Mines Company, Coalition and other properties gives more detail as to what is going on under his supervision, but does not begin to tell of one-quarter of the actual work that is being done in the camp. Mr. Flynn has more than 70 leases to keep track of, on every one of which the work of development is going on with not less than two shifts a day.

"The strike in the Kearns No. 1," said Mr. Flynn, "is an entirely new ledge, making the third that they have encountered in the new shaft, and the panings are great. The big ledge will be crosscut when the bottom of the old prospect shaft is reached, which will be at a depth of 125 feet, or a distance of about 10 feet more. Connections for air will be run at the same time. They are grinding right along with three shifts a day."

"On Kearns No. 2 they have the hoist working away and are sinking for the 500-foot level, although they will crosscut at each 100 feet. The developments on this lease are very interesting and will be closely watched and studied. The Ogilvie-Reynolds lease is sinking, and is now down more than 120 feet, and will continue to the 200 level. Meanwhile they are prospecting on the surface and getting some very rich stringers in the rhyolite dike."

"The Nat Goodwin lease has the shaft down nearly 50 feet and will continue it to the 75 before crosscutting. For the last 30 feet they have been in some very promising ledge material. On the Jack Hines lease, which adjoins the Nat Goodwin, they are sinking in stuff which is almost identical with that which they are taking from the Murray lease. Some of the rock shows good horn silver."

"They are repairing the hoist on the Murray lease, having secured the new flywheel, and I presume work will be resumed early in the week. The high grade streak on the Big Four still holds out and they are sinking in it. The Lillian lease on the Early Bird has gone through its high grade, and still sinking. The high grade is the closest approach to the Goldfield Florence that I have seen in the camp, the gold being right in the texture of the rock."

"The Truett lease on Hooligan Hill has had the distinction of being the first property in the camp to have its ore run through the mill, and the mill is right here in the camp. The run was a very successful one, the net savings being $32.24 a ton, the tailings going about 75 cents a ton. A saving of about 97 per cent was effected, of which 14 per cent were in the concentrates, and 83 per cent on the plates. This was exceptionally good on this grade of ore. The test was particularly satisfactory to the owners of the Truett lease, so much so that they are now trying to get enough ore blocked out to warrant them in putting up a 10-stamp mill of their own."

"The Truett has its hoists and gal-lows frame up, and they are sinking and have started a crosscut in shaft No. 1 at the 75-foot level. This is on the footwall side of the ledge and the ore is of the same grade as that which went through the mill. The shaft No. 2 is down about 25 feet and the ore values are holding up better than those of No. 1."

"The hoist of the Miller lease is also up, and the underground work has been resumed. The Montana Rawhide is still sinking the vertical shaft and the Van Riper leases on blocks 9 and 10 are keeping busy

With windlass and bucket. They are still running the crosscut with the Elliott tunnel on the same ledge on which they have been working, and they have not yet got the hanging wall. Smith and Hanley are still driving the tunnel on their lease and on the Burns lease on the Silver King No. 2 they are still working the vertical shaft.

"On the Selover lease they are stopping and sacking the ore on the Gruff lease on the Wild West they are working the hoist, and still taking out ore that will go better than $40 a ton. The values are mostly in gold, and nearly all free milling. The Luning lease is still sinking and sacking from the high grade streak along the hanging wall. They are going down to the 200-foot level and will crosscut at the 100 level. They are getting very fine looking ore."

"The tunnel of the Gray Gable Fraction is now in about 320 feet and the face is looking good. The tunnel has been finely equipped with track and cars, and the work of driving is being forced as fast as two shifts can send it along. Some days ago they got into the first altered rhyolite, which is quite similar to the material in which the Kearns No. 2 is now working. While the assays are not high, they are very encouraging. It is only a matter of 40 or 50 feet when the second contact will be cut, and they will get the Kearns No. 2 ledge."—Reno Journal.

PIONEER MERCHANT SELLS BUSINESS

CHARLES J. BLUMENTHAL WILL DEVOTE HIS TIME AND TALENTS TO MINING.

Charles J. Blumenthal yesterday disposed of his interests in the Frisco Store to Andy Service and Company. Mr. Blumenthal will still reside in Tonopah and will retain his office in the store. Owing to his various mining interests demanding attention, Mr. Blumenthal decided to dispose of the store. He is heavily interested in Manhattan, East Manhattan, Silver Peak, Kawich, Bullfrog, Goldfield, Rawhide and several other districts.

Mr. Blumenthal has resided in Tonopah for over seven years and during that time has been out of the State only seven days. He intends making a business trip to New York in the near future, but first will visit his various properties and get things in shape. It is possible that after giving New York a whirl, he will make a flying trip to gay Páree. A friend has suggested that he make a tour down the Nile to visit Little Egypt.

The four-round go tonight at the Casino will be a hummer from start to finish.
